animal and of its present whereabouts and the means of transport by which it is proposed to be imported.

C.A.V.O. may grant or refuse licence

10. On the receipt of an application for a licence to import any animal, carcass or biological product the C.A.V.O. may reject the application and notify the applicant accordingly or, on payment by the applicant of the prescribed fee, issue a licence in the prescribed form subject to such conditions, including quarantine conditions, as he may consider desirable.

Governor may make regulations

11. The Governor may make regulations prohibiting, restricting and generally regulating the import or export of animals, carcasses and biological products generally and of specific animals, prescribing forms of licences and fees payable on the issue of such licences.

Governor may grant exemptions

12. The Governor may grant exemption from section 4 in any particular case.

Offences: Part II

13. Whoever contravenes this Part or any regulations made hereunder is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars and to imprisonment for six months.

Powers of constables

14. Any constable having reasonable cause to suspect that any animal which has been imported into the Islands contrary to this Law is being held or concealed in or on any premises may, on obtaining a search warrant for this purpose, at all reasonable times enter and search such premises and take possession of such animal and, pending the outcome of any legal proceedings, dispose of such animal according to the directions of the C.A.V.O.

PART III-Control of Diseases of Animals

Persons to report cases of notifiable diseases

15. Every person owning or having in his control any animal which he has reason to believe is or has recently been affected by a notifiable disease shall report the same to the nearest police station as soon as practicable.

Right of access by C.A.V.O. to diseased animals

16. Where the C.A.V.O. has reason to believe that any animal affected by or having been exposed to disease is present on or in any holding, farm, apiary or other premises he may at any reasonable time enter and inspect such animal.

Standstill orders

17. (1) Where the C.A.V.O. is of the opinion that any given area is threatened with the spread of any notifiable animal disease he may issue a standstill order controlling the movements of persons and animals into, out of and within the said area. Such order shall be valid for three days after the date of publication and may thereafter be renewed by the Governor for such further period as to the Governor may appear desirable.

(2) Where an order under subsection (1) is in force the C.A.V.O. may require such disinfective and disease control measures to be carried out as may be calculated to limit the spread of the disease.

18. Animals found to be suffering from, any notifiable disease shall be destroyed without compensation to the owners, and where animals have, in the opinion of the C.A.V.O., been exposed to a notifiable disease he may order their destruction and, in the latter case, compensation shall be paid to the owners at the market value as assessed by the C.A.V.O. Any person aggrieved by any decision as to market value arrived at by the C.A.V.O. may, within ten days, appeal to the Governor whose decision shall be final.

Any constable may, upon view, take up any swine which he shall find in any specified town, and may enter any building in any such town where he has reasonable cause to believe that swine are being kept and take and seize any swine there found. | Power of constables to take swine into possession |
| 36. The owner of every dog shall be liable in damages for injuries done to any person, or any cattle or sheep, by his dog, and it shall not be necessary for the party seeking such damages to show a previous mischievous propensity in the dog, or the owner's knowledge of such propensity or that the injury was attributable to neglect on the part of such owner. Such damages shall be recoverable in any court of competent jurisdiction. | Civil liability of dog owner |
| 37. (1) Any court of summary jurisdiction may order that a dog which appears to be dangerous and not kept under proper control - | Dangerous dogs not under control |
| (a) be kept under proper control by its owner; or (b) be handed over to the Department of Agriculture to be destroyed. | |
| (2) Whoever obstructs any officer of the court so that such officer is prevented from carrying out an order of the court made under subparagraph (b) of | | subsection (1) shall pay a fine of four dollars in respect of each day the carrying out of the order remains in abeyance through his default.

- Ferocious dogs 38. Whoever suffers any ferocious dog to be at large or who sets on or urges any dog to attack, worry or put in fear any person or domestic or protected animal is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine of five hundred dollars and to imprisonment for six months.
- Stray dogs 39. A constable may seize and detain any dog found in a highway or place of public resort which he has reason to believe is a stray and, if the owner can be traced, shall give notice of seizure to the said owner to whom the dog shall be restored upon such owner paying all expenses incurred by its detention.
- Disposal of seized dogs 40. Dogs seized under section 39 shall be retained at the police station or in a dog pound for a period of seven days if unclaimed by the owner, after which they may be sold or handed over to the Department of Agriculture for destruction. The proceeds of sale of stray dogs shall be appropriated to the expenses of the maintenance of the dog pound.
- Finders of stray dogs 41. (1) Any person finding a stray dog may take possession of the same and shall, within twenty-four hours, report the matter to the nearest police station whereafter he may-
(a) retain the dog in his possession; or
(b) hand the dog over to the police.
(2) If the finder retains the dog in his possession he shall hand the dog over to any person who can show himself to be the owner thereof and makes claim thereto within fifteen days. If the finder hands the dog over to the police the dog shall be dealt with as if it had been found and seized by a constable.
- Establishment of pounds and appointment of poundkeepers 42. The Governor may establish pounds in the Islands and appoint poundkeepers in respect of each pound, and all persons who are poundkeepers at the 12th April, 1977 shall continue as such subject to dismissal by the Governor without notice.
- Poundkeepers to give notice to owner of impounded animal 43. When an animal is impounded, the poundkeeper, if he knows the owner, shall serve notice in writing on him, and for so doing shall be entitled to the prescribed fee in that behalf.
- Poundkeeper to supply food and water 44. (1) The poundkeeper shall supply every impounded animal with food and water on the following scale-
(a) cattle, twenty pounds of grass and five gallons of water daily;
(b) sheep and goats, six pounds of grass and five gallons of water daily;

|--|---|
| (c) other animals, according to the rules of good animal husbandry. | |
| (2) The above quantities shall be divided into morning and evening feeds and waterings, there being an interval of not less than eight hours between morning and evening feeds and waterings. | |
| 45. Before delivering any impounded animal to its owners, the poundkeeper shall demand and receive the fee prescribed for that animal's maintenance while impounded. | Pound fees to be paid by owner prior to recovery of an animal |
| 46. The poundkeeper shall keep a written record of all animals impounded, stating the name and address of the distrainer or finder, the place, date and time when the animal was found, the date and time when it was impounded and the description of the animal, and such record shall be open for the inspection of the public at all reasonable times. | Poundkeeper to keep records |
| 47. Entire animals which are impounded shall be kept separately from other impounded animals. | Entire animals to be kept separately |
| 48. Poundkeepers shall account to the Treasury for fees received in such manner as may be prescribed and shall, by way of remuneration, receive such proportion of such fees as may, from time to time, be prescribed. | Fees to be accounted for |
| 49. The lawful occupier of any land may seize any animal trespassing thereon and may impound the same as the distrainer thereof. The distrainer shall, with all reasonable dispatch, convey the same to the nearest pound and the poundkeeper shall, at any time between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m., receive the said animal into the pound. | Impounding |
| 50. The distrainer shall be entitled to receive a seizure fee in accordance with the prescribed scale- | Distrainer entitled to seizure fee |
| (a) from the owner of the animal, if tendered before the delivery thereof to the poundkeeper; or | |
| (b) from the poundkeeper, after receipt by him of the fee. | |
| 51. A distrainer shall properly water, feed and care for any animal while it is detained by him and shall be liable in damages for any neglect of such animal. Where such animal appears to be suffering from any notifiable disease, the distrainer shall report the matter to the nearest police station without delay. | Distrainer to care for animals during detention by him |
| 52. Any person who drives, leads or entices any animal into any place with intent to impound or procure the impounding of the same is guilty of an offence. | Enticing animal to trespass is an offence |

- Rescuing is an offence 53. Every person who rescues or attempts to rescue any animal seized or impounded under this Law is guilty of an offence.
- Owner's right to distrained animal 54. The owner of any animal distrained, on payment of the prescribed fee before any animal is sold under section 55, is entitled to recover such animal.
- Sale of unclaimed impounded animals 55. (1) Where any animal has been impounded for seven days and upwards and no person has claimed the same under section 54, the poundkeeper shall put up the same for sale by public auction and shall sell and deliver the same to the best bidder for ready money after having received the price thereof and, if the price is not paid, he may again put up the animal for sale.
(2) Public notice of every sale under subsection (1) shall be given by publication in the Gazette at least three clear days before the day of the sale.
(3) It shall not be lawful for the poundkeeper to purchase any animal sold as aforesaid.
(4) The proceeds of sale shall be paid to the Treasury for the account of the general revenue.
(5) Notwithstanding any irregularity prior to the sale, the purchaser at such sale shall have good and valid title against all comers.
- Regulations 56. The Governor may, from time to time, make regulations prescribing fees payable under this Law, designating specified towns and generally for the implementation of this Law.
- Riding animals in public places 57. (1) The Governor may, by Order, prohibit the riding or driving of any animal in any public place either absolutely or at such times or subject to such conditions as are specified in the Order.
